

The Woman's Store Suggests A Talk to Men!

Buy "Her" Novelty Hose for Xmas.

All men are more or less puzzled at this season as to what sort of gift will make "her" happy at Xmas time. We suggest McCallum Novelty Silk Hose, and tell you why to buy here.

McCallum
Silk Hosiery

These Hose are not foreign-made, but reproductions manufactured by McCallum expressly for Kaufmann & Co., of double twisted silk, which assures excellent wear and shapeliness.

Pure Thread Silk Hose, with lace insert of Irish point and Venice, in black and white, from $2.98 up to..... $20.00

Hand-embroidered Hose, set with rhinestones, on pure thread silk, a pair..... $2.98

Pure Thread Silk Hand Clocked Hose, black on white and white on black..... $2.00

Hand-colored Russian Hose, on pure thread silk, in different floral designs, that harmonize with any dress..... $5.00

Lace Boot Silk Hose, in black and white, fancy tops..... $2.98

Pure Silk Hose of extra weight, with hile heel and toe, in all colors, at..... $1.00

HOURS:
Open 8 a. m.
Close 6 p. m.

Kaufmann & Company
Corner Fourth and Broad Streets.

Social and Personal

At a recent meeting of the board of governors of the Richmond German Club, eight new members were elected. They are Messrs. C. Cotesworth Black, C. E. Barlow, Lathrop, John Howard, Benjamin H. Smith, Charles G. Harris, Frank J. McCarthy, H. Logan Golsan and Dr. Soto Fitzgerald. The club is the oldest and most exclusive social organization of its kind in Richmond and membership is a coveted honor among the society men in town. New members being added only when vacancies occur. The dances are always the handsomest functions of the winter and mark brilliant gatherings of fashionable society.

The first Monday, at which the debutantes of the season will make their formal bow to society, is to take place in the ballroom of the Richmond Hotel on the evening of December 15, and the other dances on alternate Monday evenings throughout the winter, will be held December 22, January 12, January 26, February 9 and February 23. The invitations to these dances, without which no girl may attend any function given by the club, will be issued some time shortly.

The officers of the club this year are Judge R. Carter Scott, president; Thomas P. Bryan, vice-president; and George Melville Reid, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee includes Colonel J. Lane Stern, Levin Jones, Thomas H. McDams, Julien H. Hill and E. Addison Reynolds. The chamberlains are Mrs. H. Carter Scott, Mrs. Charles V. Carlington, Mrs. Levin Jones, Mrs. Julien H. Hill, Mrs. Robert G. Leigh, Jr., Mrs. William H. Palmer, Jr., Mrs. John Stewart Bryan, Mrs. Garrett B. Wade, Mrs. A. Sidney Buford, Mrs. Thomas B. McDams, Mrs. David Harris Leake and Mrs. John Skelton Williams.

Luncheon for Miss Trig.
Mrs. Rufus Cox and her daughter, Mrs. Herbert A. Claiborne, gave a handsome buffet luncheon yesterday at 2 o'clock for Miss Barbara Trig. The entire lower floor of Cox home, 609 West Grace Street, was arranged with tall vases and baskets of roses and white chrysanthemums. The luncheon table was set with a centerpiece of pink roses and the center was shaded in rose-color. All the tea and cakes were in the shape of

Dunlop Flour
IT'S MADE IN RICHMOND
(The Dunlop Mills, Richmond, Va.)

HAMMOND
"Flowers of Guaranteed Freshness."
Tel. Madison 630.

Ask to see the Alert Heater!
at Ryan-Smith's

SCHOOL SHOES FOR BOY AND GIRLS
$1.50 to $3.00
Every Pair Guaranteed.

Holzheimer's
Third and Broad.

BIRTHDAY RINGS,
BRACELETS,
CAMEO BROOCHES.
Smith & Webster
805 East Main.

George A. Warren, Mrs. R. F. Talley, Mrs. E. H. Terrell and Mrs. T. A. Miller. A very attractive tea-room has been arranged, prettily decorated in full flowers and palms, and the same tables will be served by a committee of girls.

In Richmond.
Mrs. Charles P. Donnelly and Miss Mary Donnelly, of Louisville, came to Richmond last week. Mrs. Donnelly is now at the Johnston-Willis Sanatorium, where she will remain for treatment for the next several weeks.

Club Lecture.
In the presence of only the immediate families, Walter H. Cohn and Miss Irma H. Straus were married at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, 117 West Grace Street. The wedding ceremony was performed by Dr. E. N. Calish.

Mr. Cohn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Cohn, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and is a practicing attorney in that city. Miss Straus is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Straus, of this city. There were no attendants. The bride and groom left later for Washington and other Northern points on a short bridal tour.

Woman's Club Lecture.
An exceedingly interesting event tomorrow night will be the lecture of William Webster Ellsworth on "Arnold and Andre," before the members of the Woman's Club and their guests in the auditorium of the John Marshall High School. All members of the club are entitled to three cards of admission, which may be obtained at the clubhouse. And the Colonial Dames and the daughters of the American Revolution, who are to be guests of the club on this occasion, are also asked to get their cards at the club.

Club Entertainment.
Mrs. Robert E. Michaels, a bride of this season, was guest of honor at a luncheon given last week by Mrs. Lucy O. Michaels in her home, 1912 Hanover Avenue. Killarney roses and pink shaded lights in silver chandeliers decorated the luncheon table, and artistic hand-painted cards marked the places of the sixteen guests present.

Norfolk, Tenn.
Tuesday afternoon at her residence, in Norfolk, Mrs. E. G. Threacraft and Mrs. Frances Threacraft, gave a large number of friends calling between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock. The rooms were all decorated, yellow chrysanthemums being used in the hall and living-room, with quantities of palms and ferns.

In the dining-room the table was arranged with pink roses and carnations and the lighted candles. The guests were received by Mrs. Threacraft, Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Langhorne Putney, of Richmond.

The punch bowl was passed over by Mrs. Frank Threacraft and Miss Nancy Butt, and those serving in the dining-room were: Mrs. Edward D. Shield, Mrs. Henry Mackenzie, Miss Fanny Culpeper and Miss Janie Peters.

Back-Spines.
The marriage of Miss Daisy C. Spies and Joseph B. Eck was celebrated in St. Alexius Church, in Washington, on Wednesday, November 13. Eck will be at home to their friends after December 1, at 104 West Main Street, Richmond.

Annual Pound Party.
The Silver Circle of King's Daughters will have its annual pound party at the residence of Mrs. E. W. Thomas, 2008 Grove Avenue, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. An interesting musical program has been arranged, and Mrs. George T. King, treasurer of the Silver Circle, will be present. Each member may bring a friend.

Meeting To-Day.
The Kirmess Association will hold its regular weekly meeting this morning at 11 o'clock in Room 630, of the Jefferson Hotel.

There will be a meeting of the Grandchildren of the Confederacy, Chapter No. 1, Auxiliary to Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, 1311 Grove Avenue.

In and Out of Town.
The Rev. and Mrs. Churchill Gibson, of Luray, are guests of Bishop Robert A. Gibson, on Park Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Branch Beale Morgan are spending several weeks in New York City.

Miss Mary Foster, of "Glenville," Fauquier County, will arrive in Richmond tomorrow to be the guest of her cousin, Miss Lucy Witt.

Mrs. Menelaus Lankford, of Norfolk, is visiting her parents, Judge and Mrs. Edmund Waddill, Jr., on Park Avenue.

Miss Virginia Chamberlayne has gone to Berryville, where she is the guest of Miss May Wall.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurlburt are spending several days with friends in New York.

Miss Margaret Rankin, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. T.

Mr. and Mrs. Branch Beale Morgan are spending several weeks in New York City.

Miss Mary Foster, of "Glenville," Fauquier County, will arrive in Richmond tomorrow to be the guest of her cousin, Miss Lucy Witt.

Mrs. Menelaus Lankford, of Norfolk, is visiting her parents, Judge and Mrs. Edmund Waddill, Jr., on Park Avenue.

Miss Virginia Chamberlayne has gone to Berryville, where she is the guest of Miss May Wall.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurlburt are spending several days with friends in New York.

Miss Margaret Rankin, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. T.

Mr. and Mrs. Branch Beale Morgan are spending several weeks in New York City.

Miss Mary Foster, of "Glenville," Fauquier County, will arrive in Richmond tomorrow to be the guest of her cousin, Miss Lucy Witt.

Mrs. Menelaus Lankford, of Norfolk, is visiting her parents, Judge and Mrs. Edmund Waddill, Jr., on Park Avenue.

Miss Virginia Chamberlayne has gone to Berryville, where she is the guest of Miss May Wall.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurlburt are spending several days with friends in New York.

Miss Margaret Rankin, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. T.

Mr. and Mrs. Branch Beale Morgan are spending several weeks in New York City.

Miss Mary Foster, of "Glenville," Fauquier County, will arrive in Richmond tomorrow to be the guest of her cousin, Miss Lucy Witt.

Thalhimers
BROAD AND FIFTH STS.

BUY THE GUARANTEED CADET HOSE, FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

Hosiery for the Whole Family

The Good-Wearing Kind

Ladies' Silk Hose, silk all the way, for pair..... 50c

Ladies' Lisle Hose, in winter weight, with high spliced heels, double toes and heels, extra good value, pair..... 25c

Ladies' Hose, in winter weight, with high spliced heels, double toes and heels, per 12 1/2c pair..... 12 1/2c

Boys' and Girls' School Hose, in light and heavy weight, for pair, 12 1/2c and..... 15c

Boys' and Girls' School Hose, in linen toes, heels and knees, every pair to give satisfaction, 25c and..... 29c

Ladies' Light and Heavy Weight Silk Hose, with garter top, high spliced heels and double toes and heels, special, pair..... $1.50

Ladies' Medium Weight Silk Hose, with garter top, high spliced heel and double toes and heels; special, pair..... $1.25

Ladies' Silk Hose, black, tan, white and new colors, garter top, high spliced heels, double toes and heels, every pair guaranteed, for..... $1.00

Loyal, in Norfolk, has returned to Richmond. Mr. E. S. Morrison, Jr., has left for Raleigh, N. C., where he expects to spend the winter months.

Mrs. Stephen Putney is the guest of her mother, Mrs. William Page Dams in Baltimore, until after January 1.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cummins, of this city, are spending several weeks in New York and Brooklyn.

Miss Leah Walker, of this city, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Walker, in Newport News.

Mrs. H. Melvin McGuire, of Lynchburg, is spending some time with relatives in this city.

Miss Mary McGhee, of Waynesboro, is visiting here, before leaving for an extended stay in the Adirondacks.

Miss Ethel Harwood has returned to her home in Richmond, after a visit to her aunt, Miss Mattie Harwood, in Newport News.

Miss Mary E. Smith, who has been attending the Virginia Internat College, has returned to her home, 911 West Grace Street, for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hill Stevens have returned from their wedding trip, and are now at 209 East Grace Street.

Mrs. W. J. Probst has returned to her home, in Second Avenue, Highland Park, after visiting her uncle, R. Pierce, at Creek Mills, in southwestern Canada, and her cousin, Mrs. L. M. Hicks.

She Enjoyed Great Degree of Intimacy With Members of Reigning House.

BY LA MARQUISE DE FONTENAY.

PROBABLY no American woman has been admitted to a greater degree of intimacy by the members of the reigning house of England than Lady Carington, whose death has just been reported from London. Daughter of the late Francis Warden, of New York, she was a sister of that extremely popular personage, the late Billy Warden, who was as much at home in the most exclusive set of London society as in that of Paris and of New York.

Lady Carington was first brought into close contact with the royal family through her marriage, forty-two years ago, as a very young girl, to the Marquis of Lincolnshire's brother, Colonel the Right Hon. Sir William Carington, who was at the time member of Parliament for Wycombe, and an officer of the Grenadier Guards. For the last twenty-one years of Queen Victoria's life he was one of her favorite equerries and assistant private secretaries. In fact, he served as a sort of Jack of all trades. That is to say, he was called upon at a moment's notice to undertake all sorts of odd jobs about the court, and there was scarcely a single branch of the royal establishment with which he did not become connected.

When the keeper of the privy purse was absent on leave, or through sickness, Bill Carington acted as his locum tenens. At other times he performed the duties of principal private secretary, a particularly responsible post, since all the state papers and government dispatches destined for the perusal or the signature of queen Victoria passed through his hands. Again, during the jubilee festivities, owing to the increase of work entailed upon Lord Edward, he acted as the necessary of providing for the entertainment of all the foreign guests of the Queen. Sir William Carington acted as assistant master of the royal household. In addition to this, he was in waiting and even on duty, being by the queen's own wishes, that he fulfilled all these manifold duties.

When she died, he was appointed controller of the household and, on the latter's accession to the throne, three years ago, Sir William Carington was created a member of the Privy Council, and keeper of the privy purse to the sovereign, which is the principal non-political office of the monarch's own household.

Throughout it all, Lady Carington was her husband's most faithful and discreet helpmate, the very soul of discretion, never forgetting her American birth, but at the same time holding herself aloof from the fast and rather noisy Anglo-American set in London society, remaining in the background, and yet sought out and made much of by the royal family, just on that account. She was in a position to exercise a considerable amount of influence, both through her husband and through the intimacy which she enjoyed on the part of the reigning house. Yet she never gave any one the opportunity of invoking it. She died at Folkestone, after a long illness, and her loss cannot but be a severe blow to popular "Bill" Carington, who led his company so gallantly in the storming of the Arabist works and trenches at the battle of Tel-el-Kebir, and who is now verging on his seventieth year.

Lake his brother, Lord Lincolnshire, he is utterly devoid of "snob" and of family pride. Lord Lincolnshire, when twitted some years ago with thinking more of the workingman than of his own order, replied: "Why not? Our family were working men themselves only a few generations ago." They are descended from the same stock as Lord Pauncefoot, who died as British ambassador at Washington, namely, from Abel Smith, who flourished at the beginning of the eighteenth century, and who was himself the son of a village apothecary. Abel had three sons, of whom the first, George, was created a baronet, and whose eldest son, and namesake, assumed the name of Bromley, in lieu of Smith. It may be remembered that Sir Robert Bromley married his cousin, Lord Pauncefoot's daughter, Lilian, at Washington. Abel Smith's second son was the ancestor of the late Lord Pauncefoot.

The third son of Abel Smith bore the same name, and had a son of his own, named Robert, the friend and banker of the famous Prime Minister, "Billy" Pitt. The latter secured for him, with a great deal of difficulty, a peerage from George III., who was then an almost insuperable objection to raising "any one in trade" to the House of Lords. Pitt was of a different opinion. He held that a man of good sense, possessed of an income of $100,000 a year, from entailed landed property, was, ipso facto, entitled to a peerage; and he had his way.

Pitt's friend selected as his title that of Lord Carington, and his son, following the example of other descendants of the original Abel Smith, secured leave from the crown to change his patronymic from Smith to Carington. That is why King George's keeper of the privy purse is today William Carington, instead of Sir William Smith. His elder brother has been promoted from the barony of Carington, first to the earldom thereof, and then to the marquessate of Lincolnshire. He is also a Knight of the Order of the Garter, is hereditary Lord Great Chamberlain, and was perhaps of all King Edward's friends, the one closest to him.

Ireland's Lord Chief Justice, Lord O'Brien, who has just announced his intention of retiring from the high $25,000 a year office, which he has held for near a quarter of a century, is one of the most picturesque characters of public life in the Emerald Isle, is renowned for his pugnacity, not to say eccentricity in court, and is the most ardent Tory politician who has ever occupied a seat on the bench in the dominions of King George.

As Attorney-General for Ireland, when Arthur Balfour was secretary, he won the nickname of "Father the Packer," by his zeal in packing juries, and on one occasion was severely censured by the then Lord Chief Justice for having denounced the counsel opposed to him, Walter Boyd, Q. C., as a "damned coward," and for having challenged him to "come out of court and fight the matter out with our fists." Years afterwards, when both had been raised to the bench, they became the best of friends, and on another occasion, while still Attorney-General, he got into a controversy in court with the late Justice Keogh, which became so violent that the judge threatened to have him removed by the officers of the court, and likewise to take proceedings to have him disbarred. It is only fair to say that on the following day, Keogh, who found that he had gone too far, had the grace to apologize from the bench.

Some years ago, Lord O'Brien, as Chief Justice, had a spat in court with the then Attorney-General of Ireland, The Macdermott, who had excited his indignation by appearing before him in a white waistcoat. Lord Chief Justice O'Brien insisted that the Attorney-General was "improperly dressed," and declined to "see" him; that is to say, to recognize him, or allow him to plead, the matter being finally settled by The Macdermott, closing the front of his silk gown with pins, so as to conceal the offending garment.

A pronounced anti-Nationalist, there is no doubt that, owing to the vigor with which, before his elevation to the bench, he presented all the foes of the Union, and the severity with which he punished them after he became Lord Chief Justice, he was long the best hated man in Ireland, and carried his life in his hands. Especially was this the case during his prosecution of the men concerned in the Phoenix Park murders.

Off the bench, Lord O'Brien, who is a son of John O'Brien, of Ballynackeen Castle, County Clare, is the most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entertains continuously throughout the Dublin season, while his home parties at Airfield, his country seat at Dennybrook—the at-

most agreeable of men, a capital judge of a horse, like King George, and a soul, very witty, extremely hospitable, tall, well built, with easy manners, and a well favored face. He has a large house at Dublin, in Merrion Square, where he entert